

चलो मन, श्रीवृन्दावन धाम ।
जहाँ बिहरत नागरि अरु नागर, कुंजनि आठों याम ।
भूख लगे तो रसिकन जूठनि, खाइ लहिय विश्राम ।
प्यास लगे तो तरणि-तनूजा, तट पिवु सलिल ललाम ।
नींद लगे तो जाइ सोइ रहु, लतन-कुंज अभिराम ।
ब्रज की रेनु रेनु लखि चिन्मय, तन्मय रहु अविराम ।
पै 'कृपालु' मन जनि यह भूलिय, भाव रहे निष्काम ॥

Chalo Man, Shree Vrindavan Dhām.

Chalo man, Shree Vrindavan dhām.	O my mind! Come and live in Shree Vrindaban dham (It is such a Divine abode),
Jahañ biharaṭ Nāgari aru Nāgar, kunjani āthon yām.	Where all-proficient, all-virtuous and all- beauteous Radhey and Krishn playfully spend day and night in the kunj .
Bhookh lage ṭo rasikan joothani, khāi lahiya vishrām.	If you feel hungry, eat the leftover food of rasik Saints of Braj and relax.
Pyās lage ṭo ṭaraṇi-ṭanu- jā, ṭat pivu salil lalām.	If you feel thirsty, go to Yamuna river and drink the sweet water at her bank,
Neend lage ṭo jāi soi rahu, laṭan-kunj abhirām.	And if you feel sleepy, go to any beautiful kunj and sleep there.
Braj ki renu renu lakhi chinmaya, ṭanmaya rahu avirām.	Seeing the Divineness of every part and particle of Braj remain engrossed in the love and the leelas of Radha Krishn all the time. (This is how one should live in Vrindaban.)
Pai 'Kripālu' man jani yah bhooliya, bhāv rahe nishkām.	Kripalu Mahaprabhuji says, "The important thing is that you must not forget that you have to love Radha Krishn selflessly."
